Just launched - New online learning in Regulatory Affairs

I am excited to announce the launch of the...

Enimera RegsPlus Learner and Leader Modules in Regulatory Affairs.

Developed using insights from experience, and offering the options to include mentoring and a certificate of completion, this on-line learning program offers great value in an engaging format.

This program is not a stepwise overview of Regulations. This online learning has been designed to capture key principles and concepts to complement any current or aspiring Regulatory professional's learning.
